

Break the Cycle!

Domestic Violence Services of Southwestern PA

Prevention & Outreach Programs

Want to help but don't know how?

- Schedule Domestic Violence Services of Southwestern PA (DVSSP) to present a program on how to recognize signs of domestic violence.
- Offer to place public service pamphlets and brochures about domestic violence in businesses, hospitals, libraries, police stations, and other agencies within your community.
- Volunteer at DVSSP. Contact edutrain@peacefromdv.org today.
- Join us by saying NO MORE to domestic violence in your community during National Domestic Violence Awareness Month (DVAM) in October.
- Consider making a financial contribution to help support the efforts of DVSSP.
- Post DVSSP crisis numbers on community bulletin boards and in public restrooms.
- Conduct a donations drive for DVSSP.
- Stay informed and become aware of current domestic violence issues by accessing our online newsletter.

Overview

The vision of Domestic Violence Services of Southwestern PA is to be part of a community in which domestic and partner violence is eradicated FOR everyone, BY everyone.

The Prevention Education programs are intended to break the cycle of violence through interactive programming to youth, colleges, businesses, agencies, religious groups, and community groups.

Each presentation is tailored to suit your group's individual needs.

All programs are free.
